

English C Course Semester 2 2002

Theme: Communication Skills for Travel in English

Lecturer's name: Susannah Boothroyd

Course objectives:

To activate and improve students' listening and speaking skills.
To build students' vocabulary

Course content:

The lessons are designed around travel, tourism and survival English. In each class students will practice their speaking and listening skills in lessons focusing on real life situations based on these topics.

Information for students:

Students must be prepared to participate actively in class. Punctual attendance is also required.

Textbook/materials:

Materials will be provided.

Evaluation: Students will be evaluated on classwork, participation and an end of course oral examination.