

English C Course

Semester 1 2005

Theme: Japanese entertainment : its forms, history, and interpretation

Lecturer`s name: Piotr Rosne

Course objectives:

To develop better understanding and articulation of students' own cultural patterns and interpretations.
To learn how to observe, analyze and interpret various cultural phenomena.
To develop critical thinking skills and ability to express judgements.
To practice paragraph writing based on discussed topics using newly acquired vocabulary.

Course content:

Students will read passages and listen to audio-taped or video-taped programmes on a variety of cultural topics.
Students will then discuss information learned in small groups and give presentations expressing their personal or cultural viewpoint.

Information for students:

Students will be asked to prepare for each class by doing research on or read assigned topics.

Textbook/materials:

All materials will be provided. Students are required to bring to class an English dictionary and a notebook.

Evaluation:

Classroom activities	50%
Written assignments and presentations	50%

English Education Center Ehime University