

English C Course

Semester 1 2005

Theme: English for Travel

Lecturer's name: Junko Yamamoto

Course objectives:

To develop language skills required in different situations overseas including listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

Course content:

Students are expected to participate in activities to simulate different situations they may encounter when travelling or staying in other countries. Many role-playing tasks are used throughout the course.

Information for students:

Prepare to come to the class by reading background notes provided in the textbook. Practice conversation using the accompanying CD between the classes.

Textbook/materials:

"Passport" Oxford University Press

Evaluation:

Ongoing evaluation of all class activities	50%
Final oral communication test	50%

English Education Center Ehime University